LOCATION

We are the gateway to the great Northwood's, located adjacent to I-39, where the four seasons come alive with picturesque beauty and natural year-round recreational activities. Merrill is a historic community of 10,000 residents that several world-wide business and producers call home.

NATURE

Our natural environment is historic and abundant offering untold options for the sportsman and outdoor enthusiasts.

Merrill was incorporated as a logging community in 1883 along the banks of the great Wisconsin River which meanders throughout the town and offers fishing, boating and camping experiences. There are more than 727 lakes in Lincoln County and more than 101,000 acres of public recreational land that offers public forests and trail systems. Merrill has been dubbed 'The City of Parks' because of its 6300 acres of parkland which offers recreational activities galore: hiking, ATV trails, horse-back riding, snowmobiling, snowshoeing, biking and cross country skiing trails. In addition to the aforementioned parkland, one of Wisconsin's best state parks—Council Grounds—and a portion of the historic Ice Age Trail also calls Merrill home.

PEOPLE

Merrill is a great place to raise a family. We have an excellent school system and health care system and our public library is a Carnegie Award winner. For the history buff, there is plenty to see in Merrill. We have four historic public buildings, a rare three-arch stone bridge, a historical district that includes 19 homes on the National Register of Historic Places and three additional National Register eligible districts comprised of numerous significant historical registry eligible homes. And we have an active Historical Society and museum.
